

Our vision is to help you increase the adaptability of your people and educate future leaders who will embrace a dynamic business environment with skill and confidence; those you need to succeed in the global marketplace.

PwC's Academy

pwc.ro/theacademy

We often hear that, in response to the rapid changes in the nature of work over the next decades, we need to focus on learning new skills.

We are helping our clients prepare future learning strategies using a framework called ADAPT.

A

Asymmetry

Increasing wealth disparity and the erosion of the middle class

D

Disruption

Disruption of business models and blurring of industry boundaries

A

Age

Demographic pressure on business, social institutions and economies

P

Populism

Breakdown in global consensus and increasing nationalism

T

Trust

Declining trust in institutions and technology

You can choose from our already developed learning portfolio or we can work together to define the required skills, identify the gaps and develop learning solutions, for a sustainable business outcome.
