

Data Protection Officer

Authorised qualification training

(Authorisation no. 0011542 from 26.07.2018)

We are proud to invite you to attend the first “Data Protection Officer” authorised training in Romania that is based on the occupational standard for the Data Protection Officer function. This standard was developed by PwC together with D&B David & Baias and authorised by the National Authority for Qualifications (NAQ).

The aim of this PwC Academy programme is to train you for the professional skills and methods that are specific for the Data Protection Officer job:

- Informing the organization and the relevant people regarding their rights and obligations;
- Monitoring the way the organization respects the data protection legislation;
- Issuing recommendations and offering specific assistance for the interpretation and application of legislation regarding data protection;
- Monitoring application of the tools and methods for improving effectiveness of information security management system;
- Analysing and evaluating personal data processing risks.

Our interdisciplinary team of trainers has significant experience both in regards to data protection and information security, organizing internal processes and data management. For more details, click here.

The programme comprises 60 hours of theory (addressed in class and through guided individual study) and 120 hours of practice.

The exam with the NAQ commission will take place after approximately 1 month from the training start.

Participants will receive graduation certificates, authorised by the Ministry of Labor and Social Justice and the Ministry of National Education.
